Every smile is unique

Do you hide at the back of photographs or hold your hand over your mouth when you laugh? Is yours a closed-mouth smile or do you feel horribly self-conscious when your teeth are on display? Has your self-confidence suffered because of how you feel about your smile?

Do you have crooked front teeth, crowding or spacing, an overbite or underbite? Are you experiencing problems such as headaches or sleep apnoea and think that misaligned teeth could be to blame?

Whatever the problem, you don't have to suffer in silence. Nearly one million people in the UK have orthodontic treatment every year. These treatments cover a wide range of common - and not-so-common - problems.

Like these people, you can have straighter, healthier looking teeth that do wonders for your confidence. You could benefit from the revolution in clear, quick orthodontics for adults. I can make that happen.

Designing your smile

During your first consultation, I get to know you and understand how you want to change your smile. I'll take time to listen to you as you tell me what it is that you dislike about your teeth. I'll also do some checks and analysis of my own. Once I have a complete picture, I'll create an individual plan to design the best possible smile for you, a smile that you'll want to show off for the rest of your life.

It often just takes some small changes to achieve big results. The most important thing is to combine function with aesthetics to give you the best outcome. I use braces and cosmetic dentistry, such as ceramic fillings, veneers, crowns and conservative resin re-builds, to craft a smile that looks 100% gorgeous and 100% natural to you.

- Adult orthodontic solutions and cosmetic dentistry procedures that suit your individual needs
- Affordable and fast options available
- A treatment plan that's 100% unique to you
- Evening and weekend appointments available so that you can fit your treatment around your busy life

Which brace is right for your teeth?

I can offer you a choice of clear or ceramic braces, as well as invisible, fast-working aligners. Every brace is slightly different; I will recommend what I believe to be the best option for you. I have more than 15 years' experience as an orthodontic and cosmetic dentist, and work with a skilled, experienced team (many of whom have had braces too), which means that we are all able to provide valuable insight into which brace would be right for you.

It's important that you're able to get on with your everyday life during your treatment. I offer a number of different hidden or discreet 'invisible' brace options to make this possible. I understand that you may want fast results – perhaps for a special occasion six to twelve months from now – or evening appointments so you don't need to take time off work. I also appreciate that you may have a set budget for your tooth straightening treatment.

- The smile you've always wanted, whatever your age
- Clear & ceramic braces
- Fast-working aligners
- An individual treatment plan that tackles the misalignment and flaws specific to your teeth

Find out more about you

You may have been thinking about orthodontic work for a long time. Perhaps you nearly had a brace during your teenage years but decided against it or maybe you’ve contemplated orthodontic treatment more recently after hearing about the advances in invisible braces. With this in mind, you may have done some research at home and have an idea of which braces would be right for you.

My advice would be to book a free consultation and come with an open mind. You may change your mind about your choice of brace once you’ve had a chance to talk to me about your smile. My aim – and that of my team - is to give you individual, carefully thought out advice that acknowledges everything from the flaws you want to correct to your available budget.

Dr Tim Webber

I'm delighted to welcome you to the friendly orthodontic service at my beautiful dental practice.

I qualified in London and have 15 years' experience of providing cosmetic and orthodontic dentistry to clients. Over the this time I have become increasingly passionate about orthodontics. Too many people suffer in silence, lacking in confidence and hiding their true beauty because of an uneven smile that has bothered them since childhood. I speak from experience – both as a dentist and a patient – having been through orthodontics myself.

Braces, aligners and retainers are no longer the territory of teenagers. Successful and busy adults from all backgrounds and lifestyles are now able to choose from a number of discreet adult orthodontic solutions that can deliver amazing results in as little as three to six months, depending on the treatment type.

I see all of my clients on a private basis and have a personal and holistic approach to creating beautiful, healthy and lasting results. I always endeavour to be friendly, approachable and professional. From an initial consultation and throughout your treatment, my aim is to get to know you, to understand what you want from your smile, and deliver an outcome that will make you shine with confidence.
